WEDDING PLANS TO BE GIVEN TUESDAY

Duke And Prospective Bride Hope To Escape Publicity After Wedding

MONTS, France, May 17.—As the first step in a patient, long-range campaign to return the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield as his duchess to England, finishing touches were put on their wedding plans today.

These plans include complete understanding and co-operation between the duke and the royal family, with the least possible publicity surrounding the Windsors at the wedding and afterwards, it was learned.

Obviously, it may require two or three years for their return, since it will not be until then that existing hostility completely vanishes and the public accepts their exking and his twice-divorced American bride whole-heartedly.

Return Is Certain

But their return is virtually certain, because it is the fondest hope of the couple, as well as the royal family, and is also to their mutual interest. In the meantime the duke and Mrs. Warfield, who will announce their marriage plans to the public tomorrow, are enjoying newfound happiness in their quiet sojourn in the country.

Both the duke and his prospective bride hope that public interest in them will fade after the wedding.

They have not revealed, and possibly have not made, any definite arrangements for their place of residence after spending two months at Wasserleonburg castle in Austria.

Their time probably will be divided mostly between Austria, Switzerland and France, it was believed, and during that time opposition to them in England may become appeased through the successful opening of the new reign.

There will be but a few guests at the wedding in June, it was understood. They probably will include the Duke of Kent, Windsor's favorite brother, and the duchess.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc has been asked a number of times if the trees loaded with white blossoms seen around the county woods at the present time are dogwood. In recent years Pa Newc has been corrected on reports frequently when announcing that dogwood blossoms were out. Playing safe this time, Pa Newc asks for information from anyone who can give authority on the subject.

There will probably not be so many entries in the political races in New Castle, and Lawrence county this summer and fall, as a result of the new law being passed, which requires candidates to post forfeits that they will poll a certain proportions of the votes. If they do not poll the proportion designated, the money is forfeited.

Hunt Slayer Of Girl; And Slasher Of Boy

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17—The four-year-old boy who survived the "babes-in-the-wood" murderous attack told police today his name is "Jimmie Tierney" and that he saw his mother, Helen, strike his slain sister.

The wounded lad said he had two fathers, "George and Car.-men." He lives at "32 Bryant," he said, but could not elaborate on that address.

NEW YORK, May 17.—"Joe hit me."

These words, murmured by a five-year-old boy whose throat had been slashed, today spurred police in their hunt for the person responsible for the boy's condition and death of a six-year-old girl, believed to be his sister.

Other mutterings of the boy, whose slashed and burned body was found near that of the girl in shrubbery at Brookhaven, L. I., indicated his mother also may have been the victim of the "torch killer."

Once he whispered:

"Mommy is hurt, too."

Police, bending close to his quivering lips, at another time heard:

"My name is Jimmy. Joe did it. Mammy is hurt. A man hurt her. "Mommy and daddy and Helen and Joe and me were there. Joe did it."

WASHINGTON, May 17—The United States today claimed an abrupt halt to the proposed New York-to-Paris air race, scheduled to touch off the Paris International Exposition this summer.

Permits will be refused pilots seeking to fly in the hazardous trans-Atlantic air derby, Col. J. M. Johnson, assistant secretary of commerce, stated in an exclusive interview.

Charting a new air policy, Johnson declared the ban will extend to all future "stunt" flights.

Four Other Persons Hurt In Auto Race Accident At Langhorne, Pa.

CROWD OF 40,000 SEES DEATH CRASH

(International News Service)

LANGHORNE, Pa., May 17.—Three spectators were dead and four other racing fans, including a racer, lay seriously injured in hospitals today as an aftermath of the worst tragedy ever to occur on the speedway here.

Before a Sunday crowd of 40,000, two of the victims, one a 13-year-old boy, precipitated the accident, race officials charges, by trying to dash across the track through a line of roaring speeders. Both were struck by the car of Bud Henderson, of Akron O. as it raced around a bend at a 100-mile-an-hour clip.

To avoid crashing into Henderson's swerving race, Frankie Bailey, 22, of New Brunswick, N. J., last year's eastern dirt track speed king, swung his wheel. The sharp turn threw Bailey's streamlined racer out of control and it crashed through a fence into a crowd of spectators, scattering them like ten-pins.

The dead were Robert Samson, 13,

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., May 17.—Search for the body of Mrs. Lyle Redfoot, 23, of Fredonia, a bride of three months who was drowned two weeks ago in Lake Pymatuning, was ended today with its discovery 50 yards offshore near the C. C. C. camp at Westford.

Mrs. Redfoot was the first drowning victim in the artificial lake, losing her life when a canoe capsized two miles from shore. Her husband and two others were saved by C. C. C. officers. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, volunteer firemen acting as pallbearers.

Merrill Says Race To France May Start From Another Country

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Dick Merrill, four-time trans-atlantic flyer, and an entrant in the New York-to-Paris air race, today confirmed that France will hold the race from another country if Washington insists on refusing to license American entries in the derby.

Informed of the government ban, and the decision from Paris to hold the flight nevertheless, Merrill commented:

"I knew they planned to run it to another country if the United States balked on the flights."

Officials of the National Aeronautical association here said that aside from Merill, they were aware of only two other American pilots who had planned to enter the trans-atlantic speed dash.

One is Jimmy Mattern, a noted pilot, while both identity and sex of the third entrant was cloaked in mystery. Association officials said the entry was made by "another person, not known in aviation circles, who is believed to have registered for a famous flier."

Carbon Monoxide Fumes Fatal To William A. Curry, R. F. D. No. 7

DESPONDENCY IS BLAMED FOR ACT

Discovery of the body of William A. Curry, aged 47, of R. F. D. No. 7, slumped over the wheel of his car on the Hog Hollow road, just outside West Pittsburg, was made at 7:30 Sunday morning by Tony Di Angelo, of West Pittsburg, who was attracted by the car standing along side of the road, apparently unoccupied.

Curry had been dead of carbon monoxide poisoning for several hours when the discovery was made. He had attached a hose to the exhaust pipe of the automobile and run the hose up under the back seat into the car. The engine was not running when the discovery was made, water having accumulated in the hose choking the motor.

Leaves Note

Curry left a note stating that his act was one of his own accord. He had been despondent following the death of his wife four years ago, and this was aggravated by loss of employment late in February at the plant of the New Castle Refractories Company.

Di Angelo notified Deputy Con-

Girl And Youth Placed On Trial In Murder Case

Accused Of Hatchet Slaying Of Girl's Mother In New Jersey

TRIAL IS OPENED AT JERSEY CITY

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 17.—Gladys MacKnight, 17, was calm and cool-eyed as she and her former high school lover, 18-year-old Donald Wightman, went on trial here today for the hatchet slaying of her mother. She was as poised and self-contained as a girl graduate as she strode into Judge Thomas Meany's courtroom.

She could even smile.

She was much more at ease than young Wightman who shifted nervously in his seat, a few paces from her.

The couple faced the bar of justice for the murder of Mrs. Helen MacKnight, who was bludgeoned to death in the kitchen of her home in Bayonne, N. J., last July 31.

There was a buzz of excitement in the courtroom when shortly after 10 o'clock Gladys made a dramatic appearance. She came across the corridor amid the booming of photographers' flashlight bulbs, accompanied by a police matron.

Only a score of spectators, most of them women, had been admitted to the courtroom up to this time.

Extraordinary police precautions had been taken to see that there would be no "dippodroming," as was alleged to have taken place during the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann at Flemington.

Seeks To Land Rebel Soldiers On Basque Coast

(International News Service)

ST. JEAN DE LUZ, France, May 17.—In a daring attempt to land Rebel soldiers on the Basque coast and capture Bilbao by striking direct at her shore defenses, Generalissimo Francisco Franco has sent eight shiploads of troops into the Bay of Biscay, it was reported today.

The insurgent cruisers Baleares and Canarias and six armed trawlers, said to be full of troops, were seen near Laredo, west of Bilbao.

Generalissimo Franco's bold thrust, if made, would witness landing of the expeditionary force between Laredo and Bilbao.

Open Trial Of Policeman For Killing Of Five

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—Seemingly uninterested in his fate, Martin J. Sullivan, the 73-year-old Duquesne policeman who wore toupe and rouged his face, was to go on trial here today for killing five persons in a bloody rampage last December.

At the direction of his attorney, Edward G. Coll, who was appointed by the court, Sullivan will plead not guilty to the murder of Mrs. Laura Bacon, a social worker, for whose death he is being tried first.

Indications were the trial will precipitate a bitter battle between opposing alienists as to Sullivan's sanity. The defense contends Sullivan was not sane when he killed Mrs. Bacon, who had preferred a morality charge against him on the basis of a 13-year-old girl and the other four victims. Mental experts will be summoned by both sides to testify to Sullivan's sanity on the night of the door-to-door tour of murder and since then.

Curiously enough, Sullivan's wig, one of the principal exhibits, has been lost, it was announced. The defense had counted on proving Sullivan was not mentally normal because of his unnatural desire to maintain a youthful appearance.

Seek More Funds For Flood Control

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A spirited behind-the-scenes fight for additional funds for flood control neared a climax in congress today. President Roosevelt will be asked to sanction a boost in the appropriations.

Spokesmen for the Ohio, Mississippi and Connecticut Valleys will make final pleas before the House Appropriations Sub-committee on non-military war department appropriations during the week.

To Transmit Appeals

Conferences of senators and representatives from hard-hit flood sections planned to transmit their appeals to President Roosevelt, despite the economy drive.

In the meantime the attitude of congress, at least the house, on major economy proposals will be tested. The house intends to take final action on the $115,000,000 interior department supply bill today and to consider the $1,500,000,000 WPA appropriation Thursday.

As leading Democratic senators and representatives clung to their demands that the $1,500,000,000 appropriation be reduced to $1,000,000,000, Mr. Roosevelt insisted the full amount be provided. Members were being flooded with appeals from many urban districts to vote for the $3,000,000,000 WPA proposal of the "progressive bloc" in congress.

Rep. Snyder (D) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the War Department Appropriations sub-committee and staunch advocate of flood control, may lead the movement for more money. The presidential budget carried $30,000,000 for general flood control and $22,500,000 for the lower Mississippi Valley.

Campbell, sought for a series of robberies for several weeks since his escape from the Pennsylvania state troopers, was working as a farm hand when arrested by Detroit city police.

An extradition hearing will be held in recorder's court here Friday. Police here said Campbell served time in Allegheny county, Pa., for stealing dynamite caps.

Donald Shupe, 19, was killed in the gun battle and his brother Lloyd Shupe, 24, was captured.

Memorial Day Celebration To Occur May 30

Patriotic Organizations Will Observe Day With Program Sunday Afternoon

PRITCHARD IS PARADE MARSHAL

Although Monday, May 31, will be legally observed as the Memorial Day holiday, the local celebration of Memorial Day will occur on Sunday afternoon, it was decided at the meeting of the committee chairman, in the Legion Home Saturday evening.

The celebration will start with a parade from the Legion Home to the Penn Theater, where a program will be presented, after which the parade will reform and move to Greenwood cemetery for the concluding exercises at the soldiers' plot.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has been named as parade marshal John D. Kennedy, chairman of the parade committee announced.

There will be no Sunday evening Memorial service as in the past, this feature being eliminated because of the other services which will take place in the general observance planned.

This will give everyone an opportunity to spend the Memorial Day holiday as they wish, and the decision of the committee will no doubt meet with general approbation.

No Compromise In Court Battle

Friends And Foes Of President's Plan In "Fight To The Finish"

BOTH SIDES ARE CLAIMING VICTORY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17.—"Six or nothing"

This was the battle cry on Capitol Hill today as friends and foes of President Roosevelt's Supreme Court Bill rallied their ranks for a fight to the finish.

Both sides were claiming victory, after the president personally ended all hope of compromise by announcing he would accept no substitute for his bill to reorganize the federal judiciary. His bill would give him the power to appont up to six new supreme court justices if those justices, now over 70 years, fail to retire.

Meet For Deliberations

This was the situation as the senate judiciary committee met for one more day's secret deliberation on the bill before voting tomorrow on its merits. There was every prospect of an unfavorable report from the committee, as private polls showed at least ten of its eighteen members are opposed to the bill.

The prospect of an unfavorable report failed to shake the confidence of administration leaders. They predicted such a report would have little or no weight with the senate itself. In the senate, administration leaders insisted, they

Further Strike Calls Are Likely In Steel Plants

SWOC Plans Further Moves To Secure Recognition Of Independents

MURRAY HAS POWER TO ORDER STRIKES

Approximately 180,000 Men Would Be Affected In Plants In Controversy

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—With SWOC leaders and members ordered to "stand by" for possible strike announcements, the CIO's unionization drive in the nation's independent steel plants rapidly neared a crisis today.

Delegated full power to call a strike at his own discretion in any one or all of the country's five largest independent steel producers, Philip Murray, chairman of the SWOC asserted that unless the independents accede to the SWOC's demands for sole collective bargaining rights, strikes are inevitable.

Murray claimed the steel workers organizing committee now has a majority representation at five plants: Republic Iron and Steel, 52,000 employes; Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company, 20,000; Inland Steel Company, 10,000, Crucible Steel Company, 15,000, and Bethlehem Steel, 85,000.

Would Affect 180,000 Workers

All told more than 180,000 steel workers would be affected.

At Bethlehem Steel, scene of a recent walkout that collapsed, Murray said that "so far as organizing is concerned on a company basis, we now have a majority." Bethlehem's Johnstown plant empowered Murray to order a strike there to force signing of a CIO contract.

Although failing to claim a majority at National Steel's plants

Slippery Rock Youth Killed

Howard Hoover, 22, Found Dead Near His Wrecked Automobile

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., May 17.—Apparently hurled through the top of his car by the impact, Howard Hoover, 22, of Slippery Rock, R. D. 1, was found dead along the highway early today, his wrecked car nearby.

Clarence Hogue, of Jacksonville, returning home early this morning, discovered the body. It was believed Hoover took the curve too fast, skid marks on the highway indicating he had braked the car which turned completely over. Death was caused by a fractured skull, coroner M. E. Headland said.

The law declares he's a man today, his adolescence is done, he can carry matches or stay out nights, for today he is twenty one. Yesterday he was just a boy, who answered to ma and pa, but today he's the master of all he surveys, he's a man by the edict of law. But I rather imagine he's still a boy in the heart of a lady I know, for she still remembers a tiny tot, and for her he will never grow beyond the point where he's still her boy, for to mothers we never grow, though the years roll on and the wrinkles come and our whiskers turn silver gray, we're still just boys to the end of time, its sixty seven today.

PLAN FLOOD WARNING MOVE

Four-Hour Notice For Johnstown

Youth Council Arranging To Give Leeway In Time Of Danger

FLOOD PREDICTION BUREAU PLANNED

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 17.—Johnstown's young people are out to give this flood-ravaged city at least a 4-hour leeway of safety.

In order that the "Flood City" may never again be caught totally unprepared, members of the Greater Johnstown Youth Council are today taking steps to establish a flood prediction bureau.

Watch Seven Points

Present plans are to establish weather observers at seven points above Johnstown, at Holsopple, Shanksville, Thomas Mills, Central City, and Jenners on Stoneycreek river and at Wilmore and Beaverdale on the Little Conemaugh.

Robert Tross, United States weather observer at Johnstown, has assured the youth council of his cooperation.

Six members of the council, headed by John Hesselbein, young Johnstown newspaperman, has been appointed to the task of raising $430, the sum estimated as necessary to cover the cost for a year of establishment and operation of the proposed bureau.

Four-Hour Warning

"We plan," explained Hesselbein, "to get high school science teachers or any reliable person interested in the weather as a hobby, for observers. They will be supplied with rain and river gauges and, at critical times, will call in observations every hour or half hour."

Because of the swiftness of the mountain-fed streams above Johnstown, the bureau cannot hope to give more than a four-hour warning. But with a system of whistles and telephone communications, this should be adequate for citizens and merchants to move their valuables and stocks above flood levels, said Hesselbein.

The group will seek co-operation of Johnstown's mayor, Daniel Shields, and of business men and civic groups, said Hesselbein.

names. So, as police launched their investigation, not only sought the perpetrator of the crime but also identity of those involved as well as the whereabouts of "Jimmy's" mom.

Throats of both children had been slashed. Their clothing had been saturated with gasoline and then set afire. Burns caused the girl's death. The boy, found about 100 feet from the girl's body by Mae Savage, 18, Brookhaven school girl, and her companion, Warren Brady, 20, was rushed to Pathogue hospital.

Authorities said they found stab wounds on "Helen" who also had been beaten.

The crime apparently climaxed a picnic to which "Jimmy" and "Helen" were taken by "Mom" in the company of at least one man.

New York, May 17.—A blonde woman of about 28, who said she was Mrs. Helen Tiernan, was picked up by detectives at a West Side nursery here today and taken to a police station for questioning in connection with Long Island's ghastly "babes in the wood" murder mystery.

Mrs. Tiernan, police said, admitted she had taken the youngsters on a picnic near Brookhaven where the attacks took place.

She was taken into custody less than an hour after the four-year-old boy survivor of the attacks whispered that his name was "Jimmy Tierney."

stable John Toth, of West Pittsburg, who in turn called State Police, and Sgt. Knudsen and Coroner Potter went to the scene and investigated.

Curry had left home two weeks ago in search of employment, and is believed to have been unsuccessful in his quest. Just what time he drove to the spot, several miles from his home, which is also on the Hog Hollow road, but near the Ellwood City road, is not known. The car was seen there about 6:30 Sunday morning.

Mr. Curry's wife, Mrs. Gertrude Curry, died on September 6, 1933. He is survived by nine children; Mrs. Eleanor Bates, of Ellwood city, and Robert, Charlotte, Doris, George, Lois, Norma, Martha, and Vera, all at home.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in Slippery Rock cemetery.

UNITED STATES HALTS PLANS FOR AIR RACE; NEW YORK TO PARIS

any flier for such a flight. Furthermore, this government isn't going to permit any more stunt flights of any nature to be held."

The ultimatum calls a halt to what was planned as the most dramatic air race in history. It grounds 22 ships of six nations entered in the race planned to commemorate the tenth anniversary of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's historic New York-to-Paris dash in his ship, the "Spirit of St. Louis."

The race was scheduled for August with a $50,000 prize as the reward for the winner. Entrants included nine Italian government planes, four French, three American, three British and one each from Rumania and Sweden.

The success of the flight of Dick Merrill and Jack Lambie last week from New York to London and return will have no effect on the department of commerce decision, Johnson indicated. Merrill and Lambie expected to enter the New York-to-Paris race also.

Purely A Stunt

The department regards the New York-Paris air race as purely a "stunt," Johnson said.

If the race were held and proved disastrous it might mean a serious setback to the establishment of regular transatlantic passenger air lines, he declared. Two such transatlantic air lines are scheduled to begin operation within a few months, using giant ships similar to the clippers used in the trans-Pacific service, but with even greater cruising range.

The decision was reached, it was learned, following the explosion of the dirigible Hindenburg at Lakehurst with a loss of 36 lives.

"The race can do no good and might result in great harm to aviation," Johnson said. "We are through with stunt flights. Aviation has advanced to the point where such flights prove nothing.

"We do not propose to stand by and permit useless sacrifice of lives and imperil the future of trans-Atlantic air travel.

"Two air lines will soon begin regular travel across the Atlantic. We know these ships will be safe for they are being built for this job and aviation science has advanced to the point where, with a properly designed ship, we know trans-Atlantic commercial flights are practicable.

"But we are not going to sanction any more stunt flights such as an air race to Paris."

May Start In Canada.

Paris, May 17.—France will hold her Lindbergh commemoration air race to Paris from another country "if Washington does not back down" and reverse its decision to ban the dash, a member of the government said today.

"Maybe we'll negotiate with Canada," the minister added, unofficially.

He pointed out that France "does not want to waste the cost of the expensive preparations."

The American department of commerce's refusal to permit the race was viewed in semi-official aviation quarters as pressure to force France to sign a Franco-American aviation agreement similar to those the United States has with England and Germany.

Opposition leaders were equally confident. Senators Wheeler (D) of Montana, and Van Nuys (D) of Indiana, forecasted defeat of the bill. WE HAVE NO ILLUSIONS

SPEAKING at a dinner of the Foreign Policy Commission in New York City, Georges Bonnet, the French ambassador to the United States, asked to be forgiven for speaking frankly, and then expressed the belief that the American hope of staying out of the affairs of Europe is "nothing but an illusion."

This conclusion would be disheartening to Americans if based upon substantial grounds. It is quite probable, though, that Ambassador Bonnet speaks in a spirit of Old World cynicism and without a full appreciation of the factors that will operate in the future to restrain the United States from involvement in the affairs of Europe.

As a matter of strict truth, of course, Americans are without illusions so far as Europe is concerned. The responsibility, or the credit, for this circumstance belongs entirely to Europe. Americans brought considerable idealism to their participation in the last war. They asked nothing from the spoils of victory and received nothing—not even honest, considerate treatment from their allies, whose cause they saved in the critical summer of 1918.

Americans have not forgotten, nor will they soon forget, the greed and avarice that distinguished the peace terms, their sons who died in France for no worthwhile purpose, the burden of debt with which generations have been laden or the $12,000,000,000 of which they have been defrauded by their former friends.

It is really Ambassador Bonnet who is troubled by illusions. We view the present and the future with eyes of realism, opened wide by enlightening experience.

FOR MONDAY HOLIDAYS

A group of well known writers and educators is advocating the establishment of Monday holidays in the United States. It is argued, reasonably enough, that no one is adequately benefited by a one-day mid-week holiday, as there is little let-up in the tension of industrial routine.

If, however, assert the proponents of the new plan, all outstanding holidays were observed on Mondays, no matter upon what day they actually occurred, folks would have a chance to relax over a three-day period, returning to work on Tuesday thoroughly rested and refreshed.

The universal acclaim that always greets Labor Day's long week-end offers food for thought in this connection. A prolonged respite would seem to offer the sort of release that does not bring the let-down of a too hurried holiday observance. In any event, the proposed scheme might be worth a try.

MORE WHEELS FOR INDUSTRY

There will be many more motor trucks on the highways this year than last and there will be many more freight cars on the railroad tracks.

The American Iron and Steel Institute reports that in the first four months of 1937 material for 40,700 freight cars was ordered. During the same period of 1936 material for only 14,000 was supplied.

This means an increase of employment in related industries that build the cars and furnish the equipment. The railroads and the motor truck concerns are paying less attention to the performances of the stock market ticker these days than to improved industrial conditions which they believe to lie not far ahead.

They are confident that more goods will be produced for transportation and in a literal sense are preparing to speed up the wheels of industry. The only cloud on the horizon is the possibility of more labor troubles.

FOUR STRIKES!

Ambassador William E. Dodd was professor of history for a full quarter century at the University of Chicago, but if his researches took him into the realms of diplomatic usage, he has forgotten some of its lessons. Our plenipotentiary—an outlived word in these days of quick overseas communication—to Hitler's Germany appears to be guilty of four indiscretions in a single and effortless essay.

By haranguing several senators for the Roosevelt court plan in what came pretty near being an open letter, Mr. Dodd stepped out of the accepted ambassadorial picture. He did not do much to ingratiate himself with the White House when he advocated support of the president "even if we wish to amend some of his reform measures." Just as a two-paragraph fillip to a communication of exhausting length the ambassador warned his senatorial friends of men in America "who wish a dictatorship and are ready to help a Huey Long" and declared he was told one man (unnamed) "who owns near $1,000,000,000, is ready to support such a program and, of course, control it."

Mr. Dodd didn't name his man. But if he is the repository of such information as he professes, the name should have been conveyed with the utmost speed and privacy to the secretary of state and by the latter to the president.

Ambassador Dodd has had four wide swings at the ball without apparently making a hit with anybody. In the national game three strikes suffice to retire the batter.

SHOULD LEARN ALPHABET

Nowadays many children beginning to read are not first taught the alphabet. They learn words and phrases at sight. It is assumed that when emphasis is placed on the letters, the child will attend to the separate letters rather than to the word.

The other day I examined a child of the third grade who is a very poor reader. I discovered that he did not know a number of the letters of the alphabet. He said that spelling was hard for him, too; naturally so. He confused such letters as b, p, d. After he was given a brief practice in printing and learning these letters, and using them in words, especially at the beginning of words, he gained considerably in reading.

By the way, it is good practice to have children print the letters of the alphabet. Some like to do it at play even before entering school. In many schools now, children in the first two or three grades print instead of using script. In that way they do not have to learn the letters in two languages.

Although I used to advise parents not to expose the child to learning of the alphabet before school, I would now reverse this advice, and urge them to have the child play with alphabet blocks, with the hope that he might learn both the capitals and small letters. A better means, perhaps, is the typewriter. As the child makes a letter on it, he wants to know what it is. He asks the questions, you give the answer. I doubt, however, whether he should be given formal instruction in the alphabet or be led to make words with the letters, until after he has had some training in reading.

Tries to Learn Russian.

Before going to Russia last summer, I tried to learn a little Russian. Without first having mastered the Russian alphabet, I think I could have made no progress. But later I was not distracted by the letters as I attacked words and phrases. I just can't quite understand how a child is going to learn to read well who does not know the alphabet.

There are reading systems which may detract from meaning, when meaning is, after all, the basic thing in reading. Nevertheless, a little phonic training seems desirable for most children, since it aids the learner to attack successfully an unfamiliar word. Some phonic training may also aid in spelling.

Many children profit from simple practice on such groups of words as: pan, fan, ran; men, ten, hen; run, bun, fun; eat, meat, heat; fill, pill, mill; hole, mole, pole. Children like the rhyming element in these groups, and most children gain considerable from a little practice of this sort.

IN PRAISE OF "SWING"

ONE HEARS much these days about "swing music", as though it were something new. . . But it's a very old trick, not at all original.

A bunch of fellows sitting around a hot stove, "chewing the rag"—they make swing music too. The general trend of their conversation is human beings, their troubles and their joys and activities. Suddenly one of them takes the lead and tells a tale of what happened to him once, when he was a kid, or something that happened to a girl he knew. He spins a great yarn and when he's all run down and ready to listen to someone else, up pops another fellow who's been wriggling in his seat waiting for the other to get finished and he lets imagination run wild in some tale that nobody believes.

Swing music is like that. And most of our living is much the same. . . . One day, perhaps, it's one set of emotions that has the upper hand. Optimism and enthusiasm run the human machine. The next day gloom and discouragement take the wheel. And the next day it's dour courage or grim endurance. . . You never know what it's going to be, it's as impossible to anticipate as the whirligiggery of a modern dance orchestra swinging wild.

I like life that way, and I think most of us do. Many of us say that what we want most of all in life is Security, is the continuing feeling that we are safe and nothing terrible can happen. But in fact, while Security is a pleasant dream, it is not a satisfying reality. Those who achieve what we call Security are not always as happy as they hoped they would be. They are restless and bored and the zest is gone from living. Little irritations upset them, small disappointments are magnified into great tragedies, and life disintegrates into fuss and fume.

There's no life, no swing. They follow a pattern laid down, and never improvise gaily on the sudden changes and opportunities of life. . . . It's a pity. And perhaps some of those men and women who are bored and don't know why would open a window into a new way of living if they'd listen to a bright swing orchestra and take the hint.

We are both proud and thankful for having enjoyed these two great pleasures in our life.

A woman who was for many years a housekeeper in the family of the late Alfred B. Nobel, the Swedish founder of the Nobel Prizes, was leaving to be married. Mr. Nobel wished to reward her services and asked what she would like for a wedding gift, saying that he would be glad to give her whatever she asked. After consulting with her fiance, the woman approached Mr. Nobel and said she had decided what she wanted, but doubted whether she would get it.

"Go ahead,' said the rich dynamite maker; "I told you to ask for whatever you wished."

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Frequently, it is necessary for one to introduce himself. Please tell me how this is correctly done?—Laura J.

Answer—A man should, in these circumstances, say: "I am John Porter" or "My name is Porter," omitting the "Mr." before his name, unless he has a title by which he should be addressed, such as "Dr. Porter" or "Mayor Porter."

An unmarried woman should introduce herself, socially, as "Mary Porter." If it is a very formal or business contact, she should announce herself as "Miss Porter." A married woman should present herself as "Mrs. Porter" or "Mrs. John Porter," so that a stranger may know her marital status.

DEAR MISS MAKEL—In addressing place cards, should the titles Dr., Major, Judge, etc., be used; also should Miss, Mrs. and Mr. be placed thereon or may Mary Jones, John Jones be used instead? —J. P.

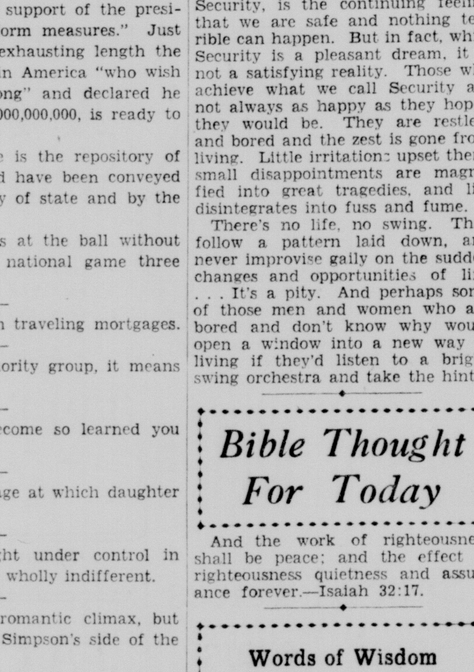

Answer—Names on place cards are prefixed by "Mr.," "Mrs." or "Miss." Men bearing titles should have them placed on the cards.

The World At A Glance

See Row Over Relief.
Only Place To Save Money.
Groups Try To Shift Issue.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

THERE WILL, of course, be quite a row in the senate concerning relief. Nowhere else can such large sums be "saved".

But handing relief over from the federal government to the states and the municipalities is not likely to save anything from the grand total. The state and municipal tax probably will be higher than the government tax. Ask a taxpayer who is in a state that already has "taken over" the task.

Besides, the states do not seem able to handle this immense problem. States are not efficient organizations. They are politically dominated with outmoded machinery and legislative chances that no longer seem able to grasp the problems of the day.

Relief organizations, in the hands of states, counties and municipalities merely are the footballs of politics.

Imagine the turmoil in the end—and the final cost—if the federal government "transfers" this problem, probably the most vital problem it has. Such procedure could bring on a revolution.

WHAT COURSE?

Congress may well be concerned in regard to relief. But so are the people on relief, the majority of whom are victims of our economic maladjustments.

One cannot readily hazard a guess now as to the steps that will be taken immediately to "solve" this problem, but one may surmise the eventual outcome.

There probably will be, in the future, a non-partisan commission of men immersed in economic and social problems. Congress itself is likely to create this commission.

How far from bad to worse the relief situation will have to go prior to that act, no one can say.

It already has gone from bad to terrible in several states, notably Ohio. People actually may starve there in the midst of plenty. The state merely fumbles. There are splendid, capable men in Ohio, men who could rectify the situation, but they have not the slightest chance with the political machines that rule the state.

And so it will be in many another state.

And if you do not believe that will bring increased taxation and turbulence, you have had no experience with life itself.

As a matter of fact, nobody desires to get to the bottom of relief. Every group tries to shift it to another group. To get to the bottom would involve severe economic and social changes. Each group knows that.

Certain it is, it is wrong to have so many people on relief. The people on relief themselves agree with that. But getting them jobs means the slicing up of earnings into still more shares—and more equable shares. This is a cut—or cut-in—that does not appeal so readily. Thus, for some time to come, we may expect the federal government to bear a large relief burden, and the budget to remain unbalanced.

A drastic cut would mean severe disturbances; a drastic cut-in would mean something too close to socialism for those who have money.

In the meantime President Roosevelt probably will get the $1,500,000,000 he desires—which the mayors say is not enough by half a billion and congress says is too much.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE STILL WIN

The first exhibition of real tennis played by a woman, I viewed at Coronato, California, back in 1914. There happened to be a Tennis Tournament going on at the Country Club and I watched the Sutton sisters soundly trounce their opponents. Their play was very strong; particularly, were they able to wallop the ball very forcefully. I noticed they avoided back-court play as much as possible. That was twenty-three years ago.

On Saturday, April 24th, Dorothy Sutton Bundy brought the Ojai singles championship back into the hands of the Sutton family for the sixteenth time in thirty-seven years of competition, when she defeated the remarkably steady youngster, Barbara Winslow, 6-2, 6-2. The story of her victory brought back to mind very vividly her mother's play at Coronado, for she refused to be lured into a baseline battle of steadiness, at which her young opponent excells, but instead, chose to volley the ball with all her might. The result was a smashing victory.

It is a wonderful thing to find three generations; particularly, of women, who have excelled in any outdoor sport, for Dorothy is the third generation of tennis players. May Sutton was only the second.

Concerning the game of tennis, California has blazed the trail for other tennis players the world over. They are not always on top, but from the time of the Suttons, McLaughlin and Helen Wills, they still show the best of players how the game should be played.

GYPSY BLOOD

I wonder was she fair to see
Who bred the gypsy strain in me?
She lived so many years ago
Long dead are all she used to know,
And none can name the English town
To which she came and settled down,
Or tell just how she chanced to be
So far away from Romany.

My mother said she'd never heard
Of any gossip so absurd!
"You come," she said, "for ages back
Straight forward down the Tudor track
And not a woman there appears
With golden circlets in her ears
Or any wanton, wandering maid
Who served the fortune-telling trade."

And yet with each returning spring
I get the lust for wandering,
A curious aching in the heart
With pack and tent and staff to start
And care-free, idly wander down
To Nottingham or London town.
And how I wonder can that be
Unless there's gypsy blood in me?

Volant School Baccalaureate Sunday, May 30

Commencement Date Is Thursday, June 3; Honor Pupils Are Named

Baccalaureate exercises for members of the June graduating class of Volant high school will be held on Sunday evening, May 30. Rev. R. S. Naylor, pastor of Volant Methodist church, will deliver the sermon, while high school girls double trio and the boys' duo will offer the music, it was announced today.

Final arrangements have also been made for the annual Volant commencement exercises scheduled for Thursday evening, June 3. Senior class members will receive their diplomas in the Methodist church auditorium. J. C. Syling, county school superintendent, will deliver the address of the evening. The program, as usual, will carry out a theme, this year's topic being, 'Women's Progress in Education". This topic was selected because of the predominance of girls in the graduating class.

Hhonor students for the 1937 class were announced today as follows: Miss Jane Cox, first honors; Miss Betty Barton, second honors. Senior class members are making plans to attend the exposition at Cleveland for a day during the final week of school. Miss Elda John, freshman home room teacher, and Principal McCracken will accompany the class.

On account of a lengthy Christmas vacation and the fact that school opened a week later than usual last fall, the closing date of school is later than usual.

Surprise Answers On World Affairs Given By Students

Questionnaires Show School Students Ignorant As To World Affairs

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., May 17.—Alas, is it for this we sent our children to school?

Following are some of the answers to questionnaires on current world affairs sent out to 300,000 students of 303 American cities by Harrison M. Sayre, editor of a nationally-circulated educational publication:

Francis Perkins is the dictator of the United States.

Hermann Goering, Hitler's right hand man, won the Nobel peace prize.

Among the chief justices of the United States are Albert Einstein, Stanley Baldwin, William Lemke, J. Edgar Hoover and William E. Borah.

"Romeo and Juliet" was written by Eugene O'Neill.

General Franco is a prominent Idaho senator.

Alfred M. Landon was recently awarded a medal by President Roosevelt for outstanding achievement.

Helen Keller is the Socialist premier of France.

J. Edgar Hoover was the Republican candidate for president in the last presidential election.

Profits earned by a company and paid out to shareholders are called share croppers.

AROUND CITY HALL

James L. Fink, director of finance, stated today that approximately half of the $100,000 worth of bonds which became due on May 1 have been paid off out of the sinking fund.

Stone for the base in Sumner avenue is being laid today and it may not be long until it is ready for a bituminous top. WPA employes are also working in other thoroughfares preparatory to paving.

Those who have seen the job put through in Rural avenue believe it is worthwhile. The city inserted posts along the dangerous curves and stretched cables. The job is about complete city employes state.

Several permits have been issued by the city health department to persons who own trucks to haul away rubbish. The men in charge of the trucks deposit the rubbish on city dumps.

Stamp Notes

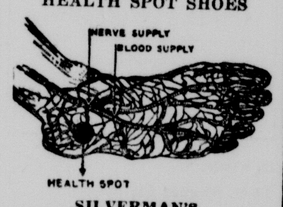

With the removal of the Arkansis and San Diego commemorative stamps from the list available at the Philatelic agency in Washington D. C., few stamps remain available Through this source for collectors. Just three commemorative stamps outside of the Army-Navy series, still remain on the agency list. They include those issued to commemorate: Texas, Oregon and Susan B. Anthony.

At the first of the month another five million of each of the four cent Army and Navy stamps were ordered printed by the government. This makes a total of 30-million of each of the four cent stamps.

With the completion of the five cent Navy design it can be said that Alvin Meissner of the bureau of engraving and printing goes the honor of designing the complete Navy series of stamps.

The five cent Army stamp was designed by Captain L. E. Schick, of West Point Academy and it is the only stamp of the Army-Navy series designed by a person outside of the bureau of engraving. A total of 30-million of each five cent stamps have been ordered.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Wheeler Power Is Showing Up

Opposition To President On Court Fight Is Proving His Greatness

HAS ALWAYS BEEN AN INDEPENDENT

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler has developed surprisingly into the real leadership of the opposition to President Roosevelt's policies.

Not that the Montana solon was an obscurity previously but he was pretty much a free lance. Although Democratically labeled, he was too radical for most congressional Democrats. Yet, because of this same label, he did not classify exactly among the progressive Republicans. He did, indeed, accept the vice presidential nomination, as a Progressive, on the ticket with the late Senator Robert M. La Follette in 1924, but after that he began calling himself a Democrat again. He was overly Democratic to be any kind of a Republican, conservative or progressive. He was overly advanced to be an orthodox Democrat. He wasn't a Farmer-Laborite.

Wheeler was, in short, a party all by himself, following no one and followed by no one. He was the most independent senator I ever knew.

A CURIOUS MIXTURE

But now he has hit on an issue (or issues) upon which others agree with him whether he wants them to do so or not.

They are a curiously mixed bunch. It includes such Democratic conservatives (who formerly termed him a perfect outlaw) as Senators Glass, Byrd and Bailey. It includes such mild Democratic liberals as Senator King. It includes conservative Republicans practically unanimously. It includes Republican progressives like Senator Hiram Johnson.

That is not the whole list but it is a representative one.

NO DEFENDER OF COURT

One might have guessed that Wheeler would be a 100 per cent New Dealer.

The New Deal is governmentally to the leftward, and so is he. Anyway, he has been emphatically a leftist hitherto—even more so than the New Deal.

However, he instantly took sides against the Rooseveltian plan to reorganize the United States supreme court. That is another odd thing. He never was a defender of the supreme court. I have heard him refer to the present court as intolerably reactionary.

What he objects to is the presidential plan to modify it. He believes that that is a plan which will make it worse than it is today, as he assesses badness.

That is to say, he deems it a Fascist plan.

A GOOD LEADER

Briefly, Wheeler suspects a dictatorship in the offing.

As a radical proletarian, he hates this idea. As ultra-capitalists, conservatives hate the same notion.

Hence the queer alignment behind the Montana senator.

Wheeler simply was alert enough to have taken the alarm first.

He is a good leader, too. If a conservative had opposed a New Deal suggestion it naturally would have been said, "Oh, well, he's a conservative!" But Wheeler's opposition is damaging. He's a better leader than a conservative would be.

A HABIT NOW?

Wheeler may be opposed only to the supreme court plan; maybe he is favorable to the remainder of the New Deal.

On the opposite hand he may have formed the habit of being opposed to all New Dealerishness. He hints at it. His recent utterances imply that he is hostile to the whole thing.

Maybe he would not have been, except for the supreme court issue, but he seems to be now.

And he suddenly has become a leader.

IF CONGRESS BALKS

Administratively it is suggested that, if congress balks, President Roosevelt can take a vacation and go fishing, leaving the legislators to "stew in their own juice."

Contrariwise, congress can adjourn, leaving New Deal law-making hanging in the air.

Then, to be sure, the president can call an extra session, and then congress can adjourn again, and be reconvened in extra session, and re-adjourned and reconvened, until it becomes ridiculous.

It really is a fight between democratic and dictatorial authorities.

EN GARDE!

Presenting Joanna de Tuscan—ideal American Girl Athlete—talented, attractive, fond of dancing, and WOMEN'S FENCING CHAMPION OF THE U. S.

DOROTHY KILGALLEN, girl reporter, was assigned to break the women's globe-circling record. She did—in 24½ days! "I was glad to have Camels with me," she says. "I know they don't frazzle the nerves—ever!"

A THROTTLE MAN of the 20th Century Limited, C. J. Chase says: "I don't take chances with my nerves. I smoke Camels—smoke 'em all I have a mind to, day in and day out! Camels don't get on my nerves."

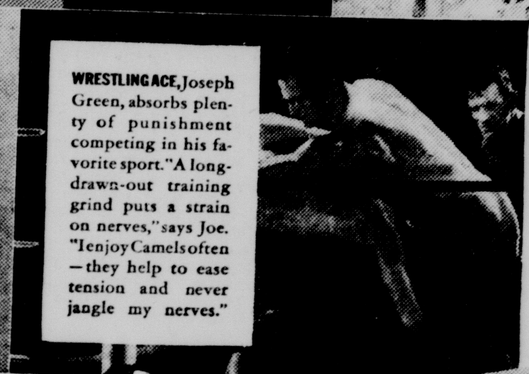

Today the sport of fencing puts much the same value on healthy nerves and unfailing alertness as did the deadly duels of long ago.

ONLY slow motion movies could show you all the brilliance of Joanna de Tuscan's darting sword play. Attack—parry—riposte—happen too quickly for the eye to follow. In Joanna de Tuscan's own words: "A person who didn't have nerve control would never stand out in fencing. My No. 1 reason for smoking Camels is—they never jangle my nerves. Camel is the cigarette that I find permits me to smoke as often as I please. It's Camels for me 'for digestion's sake' too. They're so mild they never make my throat harsh."

HE BROKE the world's indoor record in the 440-yard dash twice in one day. Ray Ellinwood says: "Jittery nerves are a big bugaboo to a track man. Smoking Camels never jangles my nerves. I find that I can enjoy Camels without stint."

WRESTLING ACE, Joseph Green, absorbs plenty of punishment competing in his favorite sport. "A long-drawn-out training grind puts a strain on nerves," says Joe. "I enjoy Camels often—they help to ease tension and never jangle my nerves."

But who will provide the Cornerstone for your Castles-in-the-air?

PROBABLY you, like everyone else, have your castles-in-the-air. Dreams of security. Dreams of leisure.

Anyone can dream dreams, to be sure. But there is a man right here in town whose business it is to make dreams a reality—to provide cornerstones for castles-in-the-air. And he is doing it—every day!

Thanks to him, a work-weary man is closing his desk for the last time. Now carefree years are his to enjoy.

Thanks to him, a boy whose father is no longer here, will stride proudly across a platform in June to receive a college diploma.

Thanks to him, a young widowed mother and her three small children are facing the future unafraid, because they have a regular monthly income.

Who is this man? Some call him a life insurance salesman. But millions of Americans know him as the man who helps to make dreams come true!

No matter what your hopes for the future may be . . . no matter how modest your present income—this man can show you how to start a life insurance plan—how to make your hope of security, for yourself and those you love, a living reality!

WHO BENEFITS FROM AMERICA'S LIFE INSURANCE?

Since the end of 1929, American life insurance companies have paid to policyholders and beneficiaries over $18,000,000,000—enough, for example, to provide an income of $150 a month to more than a million families for 10 years.

In 1936 alone, the amount paid out was $2,400,000,000.

Upsetting the old idea that "you have to die to win," $1,460,000,000—more than 60% of the total amount—went to living policyholders.

This year, payments to both policyholders and beneficiaries are being made at the rate of more than a quarter of a million dollars every hour of every day.

Boys' Clubs Of The Townsmen Close After Notable Season

Scioto street district boys' clubs, sponsored weekly during the fall and winter by The Townsmen, young men's service club, attracted 166 boys one evening and drew an average of 74 boys each Friday night for the season, Alec Samuels, chairman of the group's social service committee, reported today. The smallest crowd to attend was 48.

Samuels heads the committee and Dr. T. K. Heess, Alfred H. Owens and Harold Livesay are members. The club work is carried on by members of the organization.

Outstanding Season.

"It was one of our most successful years," said Chairman Samuels, who announced that the winter programs have closed. He said The Townsmen would probably send a group of the "honor boys"—the boys whose club work is outstanding—to Camp Fred L. Rentz of the Y. M. C. A. for free vacations this summer.

Programs were based on good citizenship and were of an educational nature. Talks on health and habits, wild life, forests, good deeds, prevention of crime, law obedience and society by prominent leaders here were heard during the winter.

Two treats—headline events for the lads—were provided and free motion picture trips sponsored. During the last two weeks of the season the boys were guests of the Y. M. C. A. for swimming and gym activities.

The Townsmen have directed the boys' clubs during the winter period for almost 10 years. The work was launched when the organization was known as the Phalanx fraternity.

Third Member Of Quadruplets In Montreal Dies

Only One Boy Left Of Three Boys And Girl Born To Canadian Woman

(International News Service)

MONTREAL, May 17.—An infant boy, the third of the quadruplets born to Mrs. Paul Martel, 30-year-old baker's wife, died here today in St. Justice hospital after doctors had made a desperate attempt to save his life.

With only a boy left of the three boys and a girl, authorities held little hope that he would live.

The infant is being fed oxygen in an incubator.

The first child was born yesterday without medical assistance. Dr. J. A. Barrette arrived in time to aid at the birth of the next three.

By the time the last arrived a waiting ambulance carried them swiftly to the hospital, where they were immediately bundled into incubators.

"I would have been nice if all four lived," the father said in French, when informed of the death of the third. "My poor wife, Floride."

Although the mother's condition is described as excellent, she has not been informed of the deaths.

DEARBORN, Mich., May 17.—Attaches of Henry Ford today started distribution of the "Fordisms" cards attacking unions to Ford's 150,000 workers while the CIO's United Automobile Workers Union prepared to open two offices here—the capital of Ford's great industrial empire.

Distribute Cards.

Harry Bennett, personnel director of the Ford company, said distribution of the cards through which workers were warned they would place their necks in iron collars if they joined unions, began when the 7 a. m. shift reported for work at the Big River Rouge plant here.

The River Rouge plant employs about 90,000 of the Ford army of workers. An additional 60,000 are employed in assembly plants scattered throughout the country.

Meantime, the FOC (Ford organizing committee) of the UAW revealed it had rented two offices here. The addresses were to be kept secret until the headquarters are opened sometime this week.

Warns Against Violance.

Walter Reuther, president of the West Side Detroit UAW local, into which Ford workers will be taken, said he had warned unionists and organizers against any violence.

Dearborn police said no trouble was anticipated.

Dearborn itself, with its shaded streets and quaint city hall, gave no outward sign that the labor battle of the century might be in the making here.

Nearly everyone in this city of 50,000 is either directly or indirectly dependent on the half million dollar a day payroll Ford distributes in the Detroit area.

GOT LITTLE ENJOYMENT FROM MEALS TILL HE TOOK VENDOL

Tin Mill Worker Had To Be Careful Because Of Indigestion, Gas, Sourness. Often Had Palpitation And Acid Risings. Vendol Relieved Constipation And Other Troubles.

MR. ALEX KUEIK

"I had to be so careful of what I ate that I got very little enjoyment out of my meals, but it is a different story since I have been taking Vendol," declared Mr. Alex Kueik, well known employee at the Tin Mill, in describing his experience to the Vendol Man who is introducing this famous remedy here through New Castle Drug Co.

"I had been troubled for years with constipation and I'm sure this was at the bottom of all my troubles. Even the plainest foods would cause quantities of gas to form in my stomach, awful cramps in my bowels. My stomach would turn sour, had a full, bloated feeling, particles of good would rise up in my throat and between meals, I'd have gnawing, hunger pains.

"My tongue was coated, would often feel so light-headed would have to stop my work and rest. My nerves kept me awake for hours every night and I'd arise of mornings feeling all tired and worn out with no appetite.

"It is wonderful how Vendol relieved my constipation so nice and easy, then my improvement began in every way. I kept on taking Vendol and now I never suffer from sour stomach, gas, cramps or acid risings, even though I eat hearty meals. I sleep well every night and awake feeling rested and free of aches and pains. My tongue has cleared up, my skin looks fresh and healthy and I never feel dizzy any more.

"Vendol has been a big help to me and I hope this public statement will lead others to begin taking it."

This great remedy Vendol contains valuable Alkalines along with roots and herbs, so it is like taking two medicines at once. No wonder it gives such amazing results, and that explains why local people praise it so highly.

All leading druggists everywhere sell Vendol. Come to New Castle Drug Co., 31 E. Washington St., and let the Vendol Man explain fully how it will help you, too. The New Castle Drug Co., at 24 N. Mill St. also sells Vendol.

Loyalist Forces Hold Ground In Amorbeita Sector

Heavy Losses Are Reported From Skirmishes As Rebels Open Furious Drive

(International News Service)

BILBAO, Spain, May 17.—Loyalist Basque forces held firm in the outskirts of Amorbeita today against the combined onslaught of insurgent tanks, airplanes, artillery and infantry, while opening a savage counter-attack farther north.

The strong Loyalist push carried the Basque colors to the top of Hill 566, an insurgent position which has been heavily fortified in the time the Rebels held it.

Heavy losses were inflicted on the insurrectos by two Loyalist columns striking from different directions.

Suggestions that a truce might be declared in the costly struggle for Bilbao were flatly turned down today by General Millan Astray, commander of the Rebel Foreign Legion, in a broadcast from Salmanca.

While 30 airplanes and all the available Rebel tanks and artillery were concentrated by General Emilio Mola to batter again at the gates of Amorebieta, four thousand more children, women, and men sailed from Bilbao aboard the Spanish liner Habana for sanctuary in France.

More than 10,000 war refugees have now gone to safety from the beleaguered city.

General Mola has shifted his plan of attack, abandoning pressure on Biskargi and fighting his way up to Amorbeita. His immediate objective was to clear the road leading from Durango towards Bilbao, and push the Loyalists back to their "iron ring" of last defenses.

MILLMAN PREACHES HIS OWN FUNERAL

tle of water and a sliced orange to suck on, the 88-year-old eccentric gave an hour oration and then conducted a songfest for the 250 farmers and their wives who crowded into the little Canaan Methodist church outside of town.

Another 2,500 milled in the yard and thronged the small graveyard at the rear where Millman later proudly displayed a two-ton polished marble stone under which he intends to lie.

Most of the crowd turned the event into a Sunday outing. They came early and brought their lunches, filling every pew and jamming the aisles long before Millman arrived by car with his nephew. He'd wanted to drive his 36-year-old horse, Bill, but he was afraid the autos might scare him.

Has Pallbearers.

Getting a path cleared, he marched inside ahead of the six pallbearers staggering under the heavy golden oak coffin Wade had made to order from a tree on one of his farms, making enough by the sale of half of the tree to pay for its tailoring.

His white mustache neatly trimmed, the oldster stalked down the aisle with his hat still firmly clamped on.

"Keep 'em on, boys," he shouted. "Nobody's dead here."

He marched up front and the Rev. E. P. Semple started things off with a prayer and the hymn "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder", into which everyone joined lustily.

Lost His Pep.

Millman began his talk with an apology that it probably wouldn't be as good as he'd intended since he'd lost his pep after his wift of 40 years died a few weeks ago. He likewise explained his lack of a collar:

'I' just can't seem to find any around since Ida passed away."

Interspersing his rambling narrative with historical tid-bits ala Millman, and snatches of song, he recounted the story of his life, summing up with the observation he had a good time and been "purty" successful, with $100,000 in the bank and hundreds of acres of rich farmland.

Lead Moral Life.

The way to get along, he opined, is "to lead a nice, moral life."

"And so," he wound up, "you've heard old Wade Millman talk his funeral piece. I don't know much about the Lord and maybe He don't know much about me. I've lived a tol'able moral life. Never killed nobody. Never stole from nobody, and you know I've worked hard. The Bible has it that he who gets the whole world will lose his soul. Well, I ain't got the whole world so I guess I got my soul."

New Theory In Cause Of Blast On Hindenburg

By MERRILL MUELLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1937.

NEW YORK, May 17—A new and startling theory for the Hindenburg disaster, which cost 36 lives when the giant dirigible burned at the Lakehurst (N. J.) naval air station over a week ago, today gained credence in aviation circles here.

Based on an eye witness report, exclusive to this correspondent, the new theory explains the tragedy as the explosion of the gas, valved-off the top of the ship to make her settle, which was swirled around the structure by a cross-wind and was ignited by the back fire of the rear port engine.

Chief exponent of this theory is a man close to the aviation industry who happened to be standing near the huge ship when she burst into flames. He refused permission to use his name for obvious reasons, but said if called to testify before the department of commerce inquiry into the tragedy, he will offer the same information presented here.

"I was near the mooring mast," the man said, "when Commander Max Pruss (now recovering from severe burns received when his first command crashed) turned the Hindenburg into the field. I noticed that the wind was shifting southsouthwest and that the ship might make a cross-wind landing, which is not particularly dangerous.

"Gas being valved-off the top of the ship to make her settle, I believe was caught by a cross-wind and with the aid of the close himidity, blown around the bag. When Commander Pruss reversed his two back engines to slow down his mooring speed, I think the rear port engine back fired and ignited the highly inflammable hydrogen circulating around it.

"The flames sped up the side of the ship and licked into the valvejets on top, setting the lifting balloons in the stern afire."

FURTHER STRIKE CALLS ARE LIKELY IN STEEL PLANTS

(Weirton), Murray claimed the SWOC has "broken down opposition insofar as the company is concerned." Asserting Weirton was notorious as a "closed town," Murray contended his union organizers were "holding public meetings, passing out literature at mill gates and accepting members on street corners."

Session Tuesday

The first crisis is expected to be reached sometime tomorrow at a scheduled conference between Murray and F. A. Hufnagle, president and chairman of the board of Crucible Steel, and Rauel Desvenine, general counsel of Crucible.

"I have requested lodge officers of Crucible to be here in Pittsburgh awaiting the outcome of that conference as we expect to make a very definite announcement at that time concerning that company," the SWOC chieftain said.

Van A. Bittner, Chicago regional director of SWOC, is scheduled to meet with officials of Inland Steel at Chicago on May 25. Union men there were also ordered to "stand by" for instructions pending the outcome of the conference.

Concentrate On Youngstown

"This week we contemplate additional activities and greater concentration in our work at the properties of Youngstown Sheet & Tube at Youngstown and in Chicago as well. We expect to have a definite announcement regarding Youngstown within the next 10 days," Murray continued.

He charged Republic Steel "was going further than any other company in intimidating employes" and that affidavits were being prepared to be presented to the National Labor Relations Board.

Referring to committee reports presented him by various representatives of the mills, Murray said "the spirit of unrest is quite manifest, according to these reports, the employes asking for written contracts asking for union recognition."

The parking time limit on Saturday will extend from 8 a. m. until 9 p. m.

There will be no parking charge on Sunday or national holidays.

The patrolmen are on the job promptly at 9 a. m. and are kept busy until 3 p. m. each examination day.

Achmed Abdullah Looks Military

Writer Of Swashbuckling Tales Dresses As If Ready For Adventure

GREAT WRITER SKIMPED WORDS

NEW YORK, May 17.—Dairy: A patter of rain as day broke. So early up and notes from Joe Cook, Zoe Beckley, and Dorothy Hall. And a hamper of fruit Dick Berlin sent from Florida. Then setting out to drop in on Faith Baldwin in Connecticut but such a downpour we turned back.

O. O. McIntyre

In the afternoon Gene Crawley, a prudent and foreseeing fellow, sat awhile. And came a bewitching lady from an advertising agency to fob me up with fair speech about a radio broadcast engagement. But I had the good reasoning to say nay and stick to my last.

To a tasty dinner with Will and Jessie Hays at L'Aperitif and heard first hand of their meeting the Pope and Mussolini in Italy. And the way home put in at Trans-Lux and tittered so uproariously at Donald Duck as an Apine climber that many seemed annoyed. So home, feeling fogram and such, to bed.

Achmed Abdullah is the only writer of swashbucklers I know who suggests his fictional romances. He is military looking and, with monocle clapped in eye and hat rakishly just so, seems eager and ready for adventure. And he has been in the midst of many excitements both in Central Europe and the Orient. He was born in Paris, educated in England and is married to the popular literary agent, Jean Wilk. Most romantic fictioneers are shy, bald and squint-eyed, who would look at home on a bookkeeper's stool.

They still talk along the Rialto about the showmanship of James Barton that night this winter when Maud O'Dell, the amorous Sister Bessie of "Tobacco Road", expired between curtains after the first act. Her role was a prominent one and yet Barton, by an amazing touch of ad libbing, held the performance together. So much so the audience did not know death had stalked back stage. Some of Miss O'Doll's lines were read from the wings. Her understudy, who had been present for the three years in which Miss O'Dell never missed a performance, was given an evening off on the fatal night, shortly after the curtain rose, and could not be found.

Civilization note: A hundred years ago if one missed the stage coach for Philadelphia there would be another along in three days. But today if we miss one panel of a revolving door, we are upset the rest of the day.

There is a now-established cartoonist who will permit no jeers for Texas Guinan in his presence. The cartoonist was doing thumbnail cuts for a newspaper column when Texas wrote in to the editor: "Tell that fellow who illustrates that column to sign his name bigger. He's good." The artist had been rattling around for years, getting nowhere when the editor, nudged by the Guinan boost, began to notice him. He was given more important features to illustrate and finally become an editorial page cartoonist with a quick jump to the important money division.

When I read something like this, as I did the other day in a national weekly magazine, I think of the advice of Jessie Rainford Sprague: "The door, a huge, ancient one, swung slowly open, revealing in the dimly lit hallway a shadowy figure of a girl, a wan, tired, care-burdened figure, etc." It was Sprague who said the first duty of every writer was to watch his adjectives and use them sparingly. Sprague, a great short story writer, is regarded by editors as the skimpiest of all with adjectives. He sticks to noun and verb, subject and predicate and it is remarkable what forward-running stories he spins.

A psychologist declares that New York has several hundred romanticists who appear to the public as prosaic. And that is true the world over. G. K. Chesterton in England admitted that the Inverness cape which he wore, and the sword cane he carried were because all his life he has hoped to unsheath his sword and rescue a lady in distress.

Bagatelles: Charlie Chaplin cannot talk business to any man behind a desk. His youth was filled with rebuffs over a desk top . . . Paterson Dial, who is writing such dandy fiction, is Mrs. Rupert Hughes in private life . . . Ben Ames Williams works feverishly for three months and rests one . . . Lanny Ross was christened Lancelot Patrick Ross.

A brightie barging up to the newsstand in the Algonquin for a stamp. When the attendant inquired what kind, he said: "One with a picture of Ina Claire on it. I'm tired of those generals."

District Highway Engineer H. R. Moffitt of Indiana has told the Butler Chamber of Commerce that improvement work on the Butler-New Castle highway as far west as the Greenwood Village district and possibly as far as the top of Cranmer hill will be started this summer. The improvement is to be financed mainly with federal money and the funds will probably be available shortly after July 1.

Before Judge James A. Chambers in court room number one, testimony in the fracas between the county commissioners and the sheriff over the payment of supply bills was taken. This was the seventh or eighth round of the affair with probably one more round before a decision is given.

The sheriff placed in testimony records of bills contacted, files showing the number of prisoners for each month and the cost per day and meal for feeding them. These files showed that the average cost per prisoner for meals had been 24.7 per day or slightly over eight cents per meal.

The commissioners are asking for a specified method of approval and payment of bills for prisoners. Under the law there appears to be two methods, one by which the sheriff presents bills and they are paid for after they are certified by the court and another where he is allowed so much per day.

In the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar, Theresa Love of Long avenue, New Castle, files an action against George Yara and Nellie Yara for $300. There is a meeting of county officials on May 18, 19 and 20 in the Schroeder hotel, wherever that is. The officials of the various county departments of government have been notified to be there but the message doesn't say in what city or state.

Richard W. Wicks, inspector for the Bureau of Prisons, Federal Department of Justice, was a visitor in the county jail on Saturday. In any jails where federal prisoners are housed, the national government makes inspections and recommends improvements where they are necessary. Federal prisoners are often lodged in the Lawrence county jail.

The contracts for the equipment to care for the new registration of rural voters was scheduled to be let today. A number of bids have been received and opened and in the past two days have been checked by the county controller. Shipment of the equipment will be expedited immediately after the contract is let and Chief Clerk Thomas C. Edmunds will be busy installing it and arranging for the registration.

Candidates for public office may not be so plentiful this year. Under the new elections acts candidates must post a cash bond which will be forfeited if they do not receive at least two per cent of the vote cast. For example a man wants to run for sheriff. He posts a cash bond of $150. If there are 15,000 votes polled in his party primary and he receives less than 750 his money is gone.

INCOME TAX RETURNS SHOW BIG INCREASE HERE

Figures Reveal 26 Per Cent Gain

Proportion Of Gain More Than Double Average For Nation As Whole

FIGURES GIVEN FOR DISTRICT

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—The increase in the number of individuals filing income tax returns last year was much more pronounced in New Castle than the nation generally, according to a review released today by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Helvering.

A gain in income tax returns without any alternation in the income tax law is generally regarded as indicating increased prosperity. By this rule, economic improvement would appear to have gone further in New Castle than most urban centers of the country during 1935.

Record Shows Increase

In 1936, New Castle residents numbering 1812 filed individual returns on 1935 income. This represented a gain of 380 returns, or 26 per cent, over the number of returns filed in the previous year. In the country as a whole, on the other hand, 1936 returns increased only 11 per cent in number.

In Pennsylvania as a unit, individual returns climbed upward from 350,174 in 1935 to 397,277 in 1936. Pennsylvania ranked second of the states in the number of such returns both years.

Individuals in Lawrence county filing returns increased from 2091 in 1935 to 2771 in 1936. Such returns increased from 1549 to 2001 in Butler county and from 3642 to 4836 in Beaver county.

District Figures

Residents of Bessemer making returns increased from 12 to 19. In Ellwood City, such returns climbed sharply from 514 to 764. Returns made by residents of other urban areas in the tri-county district were reported as follows:

	1935	1936
Slippery Rock	30	36
Zelienople	46	75
Evans City	56	56
Beaver	490	590
Aliquippa	547	795

Will Appear In Graduation Play

Miss Elizabeth Slaver And James Cavell Have Roles In "Skidding"

Two of the June graduates who will so capably fill their roles in "Skidding" have both appeared in high school productions before. "Skidding" is the senior A class play to be presented on Thursday evening, May 20, at the senior high school. The two students mentioned above are Elizabeth Slaver and James C. Cavell.

Elizabeth Slaver

Elizabeth will play the part of Marion Hardy, youngest daughter of this amusing, typical American family. Marion is a very recent college graduate with a decided flare for a political career. She is torn between two loves—a career and her fiance, Wayne Trenton. Mr. Trenton believes that a woman's place is in the home. Marion spends a great deal of time and energy trying to convince him that it isn't.

Miss Slaver will be remembered as Ann Windsor, the heroine of "Seven Chances", one of the Ne-Ca-Hi comedies of last semester. Elizabeth is a member of Girl Reserves, sub-treasurer of her session room, and a class representative. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Slaver of 9 East Moody avenue.

For the part of Andy, young son of the Hardy family, James C. Cavell has been chosen. Andy is a likable, happy-go-lucky schoolboy, a bit on the lazy side, who provides much entertainment. Midway in "Skidding" Andy is suddenly awakened to the attractions of the opposite sex. Needless to say, he adds a hilarious touch to this very humorous comedy.

James Cavell

James has already been seen in three high school plays, which is quite a record. He had the title role of Willie in "Seventeen", the part of Jimmie Shannon in "Seven Chances", and more recently, the character of T. Boggs Johns in "A Pair of Sixes". James is a hall monitor and captain of the announcement squad. He is the son of Mrs. James C. Cavell of 421 Sumner avenue.

Mrs. Mary Picarello, who was the worst injured, of those brought to the hospital here following the crash is now getting along nicely, but it will be some time before she can be moved from the hospital, her left leg having been crushed in the accident.

New Controversy On Duke's Wedding

Publication Of Engagement Is Now Involved — Church Objection Cited

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 17—On the eve of announcement of their wedding plans, the church still stands in the way of publication of the engagement of the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield in the royal official gazette, the Daily Express said today.

The express contradicted a story in the Sunday Referee saying the engagement notice would appear in the Gazette probably Thursday, after a special request made by the Duke to his monarch brother.

"The Duke of Windsor returns to the news," said the Express, editorially.

His coming wedding makes him interesting to the public of the world, and some newspapers have foolishly supposed that official announcement of the event would be made by King George and published in the London Gazette.

"This, of course, cannot be so long as ecclesiastical objection holds good to the marriage of the Duke to a woman who has been twice in the divorce courts and has two former husbands living.

"It is true that the ecclesiastical objection does still hold good, and is sustained in the general opinion of the nation, so participation of the present king in any way at the wedding of the Duke and Mrs. Warfield is impossible."

The Duke of Kent, however, will be best man at the wedding, said a news story in the Daily Express.

The princess royal, sister of the bridegroom, will be the only other member of the royal family present.

Other guests will include Lord and Lady Louis Mountabatten, according to the Express, Lady Diana Cooper, Lord and Lady Brownlow, and Lady Mendel. Invitations will be issued tomorrow.

She wears variations of this costume, a Schiaparelli suit, made in several color and fabric combinations, to wear while traveling. The original model, which she is wearing here, is a black tweed fastened with large rust-colored leather "S" clips and rust leather ascot. With it she wears a shiny black straw pillbox hat with rust-colored poppies, open-toed pumps in patent leather and over-sized envelope bag.

Revolt Fails In Albania

Communist Inspired Uprising Against King Zog, Is Quickly Quelled

(International News Service)

TIRANA, Albania, May 17.—A revolution said to have unveiling of women as one of its causes was a "complete failure" in southern Albania King Zog's official news agency asserted today.

Documents found on some of the Rebel dead and prisoners "clearly proved," the agency charged, however, that the uprising was "communist inspired."

Some unofficial sources were inclined to doubt, on the other hand, that the rebellion had been fully put down. Anti-Italian sentiment, following the recent visit of Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, was mentioned as a further cause.

Quickly Quelled

Loyal troops acted speedily after the Rebels captured Argyrokastron and Tepelena, reoccupying both cities without opposition the official agency claimed. The revolt, it said did not spread beyond these points.

Revolt leaders are Ethem Toto, former minister of the interior, and Capt. Gjyben of the army.

King Zog, who once sent an emissary to the United States to look around for a rich bride, bore their enmity and the plotters made capital out of Moslem anger over Zog's order for unveiling of women.

BILL BURGESS DISCOVERS
A new kind of brakes
SAFEST STOPPING
ANY CAR EVER HAD . . . ANOTHER No. 1 FEATURE OF AMERICA'S No. 1 CARS

"Best hydraulics I ever saw!" Zipping along at 40 miles an hour, Bill Burgess steps lightly on the brake pedal as the No. 1 Car crosses a line on the pavement. DUO-AUTOMATIC HYDRAULIC BRAKES by HUDSON stop the car in record time. "Measure it," says the dealer. 69 feet, 7 inches! Less than half the distance allowed by law.

"Now, disconnect those hydraulics!" All set for an extra special test . . . the hydraulic brakes are purposely disconnected and away they go back over the same test route. "What, no brake at all?" "Wait and see!" Bill Burgess is now about to have an experience only possible in a 1937 Hudson or Terraplane. Up to 40 miles an hour again . . . flashing over the line . . . "NOW!"

"Stop again!" . . . AND HE PUSHES THE SAME BRAKE PEDAL! No fumbling for an emergency brake lever. Bill just pushes the regular brake pedal a little farther down . . . and again . . . a quick, smooth stop! "That's the kind of a brake system for me!" exclaims Bill. Yes, but only Hudsons and Terraplanes have them!

"Two separate braking systems!" When Bill Burgess stopped the first time he used only the hydraulic brake system. After disconnecting the hydraulics he again stopped quickly and smoothly with the reserve mechanical system. "A feature that's years ahead," explained the dealer. "Typical of all Hudson engineering!"

"OnlyHudson andTerraplane have brakes like these!" For your complete protection Hudson builds three separate brake systems into their cars . . . hydraulics that are big, powerful, sure-acting . . . an entirely separate mechanical system that operates from the same pedal and a hand lever parking brake conveniently placed under the cowl with finger-touch release.

Safest stopping is but one of dozens of No. 1 FEATURES you'll find in any new Hudson or Terraplane. No. 1 in performance, endurance, economy . . . holders of 41 OFFICIAL A. A. A. records! You'll quickly understand why new thousands, like Bill Burgess, are driving, riding . . . and discovering for themselves their No. 1 CAR!

Yankees Again Topping League

Defeat Philadelphia Before Huge Crowd At Quaker City, Sunday

PITTSBURGH ALSO TURNS IN VICTORY

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 17.—That long over-due bad news from the New York Yankees apparently had arrived today for the rest of the American league clubs.

After floundering around for nearly a month while fettered with injuries and an epidemic of batting slumps, the Yanks finally have crashed through to league leadership.

The old standbys are not hitting as they might be and some ailing members of the squad still haven't recovered, but, with that good fortune characteristic of the champions, they've found another star to carry on in lieu of the missing dynamiters. He's young Tom Henrich. Moreover, they already are getting some pitching from Red Ruffing.

Defeat Philadelphia.

Those two combined yesterday to knock the Philadelphia Athletics out of the league lead with an 8 to 4 victory before the biggest crowd that ever saw a baseball game in the Quaker city. The turnout was just short of 39,000, and got a run for its money, although the Yanks provided it.

Henrich, a broad-backed outfielder from Ohio via Milwaukee, who was freed from the Cleveland Indians by Commissioner Landis, personally picked the Yanks as the club he wanted to play with soon after the start of this season—and promptly after signing up was sent to the Newark farm.

However, the trading of Roy Johnson and the loss of Jake Powell thru an appendicitis operation created a shortage of fly-chasers and he was called to the big show. He's been playing like a man inspired. In four starts he has garnered a homer, two triples, a double and three singles to virtually win two games single-handed.

He contributed the four-baser, one triple and one single yesterday when the A's were knocked off the top, and Ruffing, making his first start after that long holdout, pitched the victory, although he failed to finish. He allowed five hits and walked five going into the ninth.

Pirates Win Again.

The Pittsburgh Pirates added to their National league leadership by beating the second place St. Louis Cardinals, 2 to 1. Joe Bowman earned his fifth victory of the season in holding the Cards to six hits.

The third place Giants likewise lost ground in a 6 to 0, five-hit defeat administered by Pitcher Claude Passeau and the Philadelphia Phillies.

Van Mungo, trying for his fifth win of the season, and the Dodgers seeking their fifth straight, succumbed as one to the Boston Bees, 3 to 2, when Vince DiMaggio singled in the 11th to win the game.

Chick Hafey beat the Chicago Cubs for the Cincinnati Reds with a long fly in the ninth, driving home the winning run.

Swinging back into the American league, the Chicago White Sox beat the Cleveland Indians, 6 to 4; the Detroit Tigers downed the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 4, and the Boston Red Sox outlasted the Senators in taking a 12-inning 6 to 5 decision—none of which results had any important bearing on the standings.

Games Tuesday In City League

Four games will be played in the city baesball league on Tuesday evening (weather permitting). The games will start at 6 o'clock. All week-day games will be seven innings. Sunday games will be nine innings.

The Mahoning A. A. will be at the Cedar street field to oppose the Lawrance Indies. The Sixth Ward Firemen will be down at Ryantown field to meet the Colored Elks. K. Pulaski will be at the Rosena field to play the South Side Board of Trade. The Ryantown team journeys to West Pittsburg for a tussle.

Big Rush Starts For Fight Seats

Indications Of Huge Crowd At Braddock-Louis Battle In Chicago

By CHESTER YOULL
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, May 17—So eager are the sovereigns of this metropolis to see James J. Braddock mangle the pan of Joe Louis, or vice versa that this morning they had deposited $200,000 in reservations into the coffers of promoter Joseph Foley, only 72 hours or so after the shambles had been declared legal.

With singular restraint the promoters had closed their eyes to cash and refused to sell a singe ducat until the New York courts had ruled that Braddock was eligible to commit assault and battery on Louis before he tried the same tactics on Max Schmeling. Late last week came the O. K., and the gold began to pour into the local money boxes so fast that it left the boxing men slightly dizzy in the head which is no great innovation.

However, promoter Foley was sanguine:

"It looks as if we will fill every seat in Comiskey park" he said "And have them standing in the aisles.

In the meanwhile, Braddock and Louis are going about their training duties, the former at Grand Beach, Mich., which is about a couple of hours out of Chicago and the latter at Kenosha, Wis.

Life Insurance Leader Speaks To Rotary Club

E. Milnor Bechtel, Philadelphian, Heard At Luncheon Today

How to take advantage of the income privileges in every life insurance policy to guarantee security of regular income was described to New Castle Rotarians in a fitting Life Insurance Week address delivered today by E. Milnor Bechtel, agency assistant for the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia.

Mr. Bechtel spoke to the club at its weekly luncheon in The Castleton. "Life Insurance, The Great Stabilizer was his topic.

The nationally-known young insurance company officer, in the New Castle district for a series of speaking engagements this week, stressed in his talk the distinction between investments for a short term and those for the long pull. It was shown how life insurance is the stabilizing factor in a mans long time investment program.

The speaker termed life insurance as the ideal terminal investment, because it reaches its peak value the moment the emergency arises which causes the termination of earning power. Those emergencies are death and old age, and life insurance can very properly fit into a man's investment program to take care of both contingencies.

Mr. Bechtel added: "Life Insurance came through the past depression with flying colors. The reasons are two-fold: First, because the first consideration is security of principal and investments are only of the conservative type. Furthermore, they are able to have a wide diversification. Secondly, even during the bottom year of the depression (1932) the regular flow of premium and interest income was sufficient to meet the heavy cash demands during that year, the excess of course was added to the reserves of the policies in force.

Mr. Bechtel, who makes his home in Philadelphia, is a native of that city and is a graduate of the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania. For one year after his graduation he taught economics there and gained a national reputation in that subject.

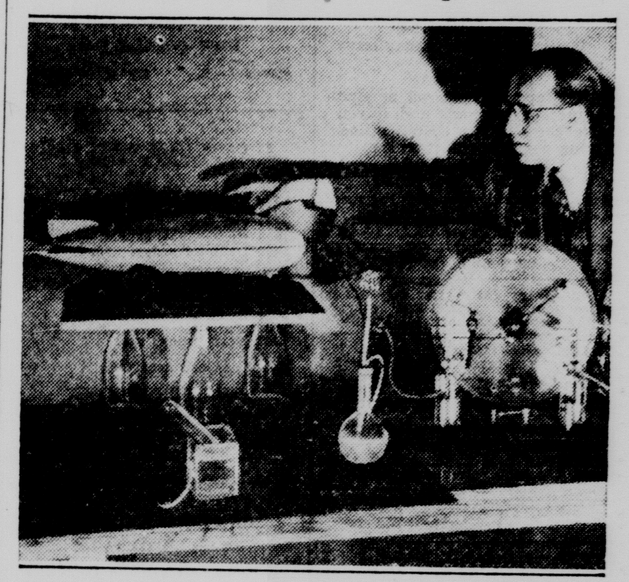

Tonight Mr. Bechtel speaks to the New Wilmington Rotarians and on Wednesday he speaks in Franklin and Titusville. On Thursday evening May 20, he speaks before a Life Insurance Week dinner of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce at the Ellwood Country Club.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

It is very improper to use a column such as this for one's personal affairs . . . but today I lay aside all questoins . . . today is an unusual day . . . TODAY I AM A MAN.

* * *

This kind of weather draws the crowds . . . the old St. Cloud building is something to look at . . . they are having quite a time over there . . . digging and keeping the crowds back . . . one of these days we are going to spend a week over there just looking around.

* * *

We noticed Saturday night a certain green Plymouth coupe chasing a gray Oldsmobile coupe . . . we are wondering if the Plymouth caught the Olds . . . and if it did, what were the result . . . this all seems strange to you . . . doesn't it . . . well the green car was driven by Miss Chambers and the gray one . . we are not certain as yet . . . but we think it was Eddie Rummel . . . one of our bachelors.

* * *

Now that we have a May Queen . . . Miss Janet Hartland . . . we are hoping for nice weather . . . in case the weather is wet Tuesday, May 25 the Festival will be held the following evening . . . there are four evenings that week that are available . . . we are hoping that Tuesday will be the night.

* * *

Remember some weeks ago . . . mention was made about a cocoon that was mailed to this desk . . . it said in the letter . . . keep the cocoon in a dry place and if a butterfly is out moving in two weeks we are in for a hot and dry summer . . . that has been over two weeks ago by a long shot . . . the cocoon is the same as it was . . . this means we are going to have plenty of rain and cooler . . . this is the story told by H. W. Booher . . . it looks like you are right young fellow . . . this time last year it was plenty warm . . . in fact I got my first sun burn last May 17 . . . believe it or not . . . as our friend Mr. Ripley says.

Stock Market Is Dull Today

Market Unsettled After Making Attempt To Go Higher As Opening Occurred

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 17.—Stocks drifted lower in extremely dull trading today, after making moderate progress on the upside through the first hour.

Volume was restricted by the closing of British markets for the annual Whitsuntide holiday and a general movement to the sidelines in anticipation of a possible supreme court decision on the Social Security Act.

Selling was initiated in the steels, with Bethlehem, Republic and U. S. Steel slipping fractionally and Youngstown about a point. A showdown between independent steel firms and the C.I.O. is expected this week, the latter seeking agreements similar to the one reached with Jones & Laughlin recently.

Motors, oils, coppers and rails moved lower with the steels.

American Tobacco "B" and Reynolds Tobacco "B", Standard Oil of N. J. and Public Service of N. J., dropped into new low ground for the year.

Gains in Chrysler, General Motors, American Smelting, Kennecott, Atchison, N. Y. Central, Northern Pacific and American Telephone were converted into losses.

Bonds were generally lower, although governments were independently firm. Grains displayed a mixed trend, while cotton had early gains wiped out.

Insurance Week Opened Saturday

Life Underwriters Of Lawrence County Open With Luncheon In The Castleton

Insurance Week, observed throughout the country this week, was opened in Lawrence County Saturday at noon when the life under-writers of Lawernce County held a luncheon in the ballroom of the Castleton Hotel.

William Stafford, president of the local organization of life underwriters served as toastmaster of the program following the luncheon and introduced as the first speaker, Boyd Barrett, of Ellwood City. Mr. Barrett spoke on the work done in Ellwood City in the essay contest conducted as part of Insurance Week and invited the New Castle members to a dinner meeting on Wednesday night.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath followed Mr. Barrett and spoke to the insurance men from the standpoint of the purchaser. He illustrated some of his points with personal experiences and livened his talk with stories that were to the point. He was followed by Bart Richards.

Howard E. Johnson, a local insurance man spoke from the professional side of Insurance Week. He reminded the life underwriters that the week was not so much an opportunity to sell more insurance but to liven the interest of the public in the subject of life insurance in a general way.

In previous years the insurance men had started the week with a breakfast on Monday morning. This year the luncheon idea was adopted and it attracted some forty odd life underwriters on Saturday.

Legislature In Final Two Weeks

Members Expect To Pass Many Measures In Closing Period

SOME COMPROMISES ARE NOW IN PROSPECT

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 17—The legislative die was cast today.

Its course charted by a determined Democratic Earle administration which has agreed to compromise and preserve party harmony, the 132nd legislature today began an intensive two-week period of precedent-shattering law-making.

Bent upon sine die adjourment by May 28, Pennsylvania's legislators convene for the 20th week tonight. There will be night sessions, five day weeks, in order to complete the far reaching program before the general assembly.

This can be done only if there are no slips, no new schisms, developed within the Democratic majority, still restless and inwardly rebellious despite the apparent accord reached with the party's high command.

The legislative hopper is still loaded with controversial measures, any one of which may possibly delay adjournment and deadlock the general assembly.

This was especially true of Gov. George H. Earle's relief and public assistance program, which, according to present parliamentary strategy, is to be jammed through the senate and sent to the house this week.

Dead Five Minutes Youth Now Alive

Doctor Revives Boy After Heart Stops Beating For Five Minutes

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Little nine-year-old Sam Maile is alive to tell of the time recently when he was dead for five minutes.

A doctor, a nurse, and the whole Maile family were present when Sam's heart stopped beating.

Sam became ill with scarlet fever, and then pneumonia set in. He kept growing weaker. One morning his father, who had stayed up with him all night, had gone to bed, his mother was downstairs, and the nurse was alone with him. It was 7 a. m.

Beating Stopped.

Suddenly the nurse noticed an odd expression on the boy's face. She felt for his pulse. It had stopped beating.

A few minutes later when the boy's father returned with a doctor, Sam had begun to turn blue.

The doctor administered adrenalin. It was a tense scene while the small circle waited to see the effect. Then Sam's eyes began to flutter, and finally opened.

Sam said he could remember nothing which might have occurred in the five-minute interval. Sam's doctor insists Sam's heart really did stop, that the boy was dead for one-twelfth of an hour.

Corporal Lennig Makes Record

New Castle Youth In Army Service In Hawaii Achieves Distinction

A young man who received his first military training in the National Guard Cavalry unit in New Castle has an excellent and unusual record in the United States Army in Hawaii.

Corporal Clarence R. Lennig, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Lennig, who reside at 910 Temple avenue in New Castle, attained the honor of being the first soldier in the Hawaiian Separate Coast Artillery Brigade to receive the rating of first class private with a third class specialists rating. It was and is the highest specialist rating in that brigade.

Lennig had only been in the brigade ten months when he was given this signal award. He is also possessor of the expert gunner's medal, earned for knowledge of the big coast artillery guns. Two months later he was made a corporal and a non-commissioned officer. At present he is chief of stenographers. During military maneuvers he is head of the Hawaiian Separate Coast Artillery Brigade Message Center, with 25 experts of military administration under his direct supervision.

This progressive soldier enlisted in New Castle on October 1, 1935, and was sent to Fort Slocum, N. Y., for preliminary training. He sailed on the U. S. A. Transport "Republic" on October 10, 1935. Arriving in Honolulu on November 1, 1935, he was sent to his present location at Fort DeRussy, a beautiful post that borders on the famous Waikiki Beach.
